Given this from the HWOW...

Given this from the Brown Bag...

The solution is...

Hungry for a hamburger sandwich? Like this one? Probably not.

Let's get on with solving this clue.

Clearly, we have a hamburger, but with some unusual toppings: musicians!

The logo on the HWOW should have led you to the rock group Van Halen.

These look like the guys from the group.

But one of them is missing. These look like the earlier days of the band, when the lead singer was David Lee Roth.

So, we have a hamburger with Van Halen, but minus David Lee Roth.

Put it together and we have a Roth-less burger, which should bring to mind Super Bowl champion quarterback Ben Roethlisberger.

You should recall that he was in a motorcycle accident earlier this year and was not wearing a helmet, but was fortunate to escape serious injury.

Let's remind riders to wear helmets, so roar on over to Circle
